

Orange Coast College Welcomes New Symphony Conductor Ahead of Return to Campus

Orange Coast College's new Symphony conductor, Dr. David Wadsworth, is set to return to campus in the fall of 2021. Dr. Wadsworth, who has been a faculty member at OCC since 2010, will be replacing Dr. David Wadsworth as the conductor of the college's symphony orchestra. Dr. Wadsworth has a Master of Music degree from the University of California, Santa Barbara, and a Ph.D. from the University of California, Los Angeles. He has also served as the conductor of the Santa Barbara Symphony Orchestra and the Santa Barbara Chamber Orchestra.

Dr. Wadsworth is a native of Orange County, California, and has been a resident of the area since 1980. He is married and has two children. He is also an active member of the Orange County Music Association and the Santa Barbara Chamber Music Society. Dr. Wadsworth is currently a professor of Music at OCC and is also the director of the college's Music Department. He is looking forward to returning to campus and working with the students and faculty to continue to grow the college's music program.
